

Germany Student Visa

Germany is one of the rich and progressive nations, which is known for excellent education system, tradition and multicultural environment. There are more than 300 universities in Germany that offer various study programs in the domains of law, medicine, management, agriculture, health, research and teaching. Gain fine knowledge on best courses and stupendous options offered by the German universities that are internationally recognized.

Every year thousands of overseas nationals flock to this nation, to enjoy its world-class destinations, beaches, landscapes and ancient sculptures. Many international students prefer Germany as their dream destination for higher studies, as the top universities of this nation offer fine education at low tuition fees, financial support in the form of scholarship schemes, high quality of life and wide-range of post-graduation prospects.

Education in top universities of Germany

Few of the top universities of Germany offer more than 12000 study programs that are acknowledge world-wide. More than 17 institutions of Germany are ranked in world's top 250 and 40 are included among the world's top 650 universities. Pursuing higher education, especially a bachelors' degree from the recognized universities of Germany is very easy, an individual can easily acquire his or her degree within 12 or 24 months. Based on the individual needs and requirements, he or she can take up this graduation program as a full-time or a part-time course.

If required, he or she can also work while studying to support themselves financially. Series of study options offered by the universities of Germany are undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate degree. Apart from the masters and PhD programs, its educational institutions also offer internship programs to help a candidate learn some professional skills and to explore his or her ideas.

If you are planning to apply for Germany student visa to pursue higher studies, gain basic awareness on applying process and its norms by approaching the leading immigration consultants of Opulentus.

Basic requirements to apply for Germany student visa:

Following are the requirements that an individual must meet to apply for a visa:

- Must possess a valid visa
- Proficiency in English language
- Must possess sufficient funds to support themselves in the country
- A confirmation of request of admission from the university
- Must meet character and health requirements

Why Opulentus?

Opulentus is an emerging visa consultancy that offers visa services at affordable costs. We have certified visa experts who offer excellent immigration services to global clientele. Come to us today and resolve all your issues in no time.